SEEK WILSON'S AID TO CARRY STATES

Members Believe His Influence Will Help Their Re-election in November-Program Discussed.

President Wilson must be the savior of the Democratic majority in the Sixtyfifth Congress.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, in his visit to the White House yesterday voiced the opinion of members of Congress from doubtful State-that a speech from the Chief Executive is liable to be the turning point of success or victory. Strong pressure is being brought on the President to visit Maine; Indiana wants at least two speeches from the Democratic leader, while Ohio, Wiscon-sin, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Massachusetts feel that a direct word from the White House will advance the Democratic cause. A definite campaign program was dis-used with Chairman Vance McCormick, of the Democratic National Committee. yesterday, but it will not be finally ap-proved until after the notification ceremonies at Shadow Lawn.

Notes of Camp Ordway

By WATSON DAVIS By WATSON DAVIS.

There are very live ghosts in the National Cemetery, across from Camp Ordway, according to Capt. H. J. Bryson, the medical officer, who, with Col. O. W. Owen, U. S. A., inspects the camp each day for sanitary deficiencies. The ghosts are mosquitoes, that breed in the hollows, and the damp grass, and they naunt the soldiers each night. As the camp authorities have no authority to take preventative measures, except on the take preventative measures, except on the camp site, the insects continue to breed.

After the camp site had been cleared of all underbrush, the sanitary troops used "Larvacide" on the sluggish streams that serve as mosquito breeding places. The preparation is a mixture of caustic potash, resin, phenol, cresol, mixed with an equal quantity of oil to make it float on the water. This mixture kills the eggs of the mosquito.
